Colorado Aviation Business Association (CABA) Announces Scholarship Winners

Denver, CO – October 6, 2014 – The Colorado Aviation Business Association (CABA) is proud to announce the recipients of the 2014 CABA Scholarships. The scholarships were presented at the 4th Annual Colorado Safety Stand-Down (formerly known as the CABA Industry Training Symposium), held October 3rd in the Ball Corporation Hangar at Rocky Mountain Metropolitan Airport, in Broomfield, Colorado.

The 2014 recipients are: Ms. Olivia Zehner, Mr. Scott Dulaney, and Mr. Zach Powers.

Ms. Zehner is currently a freshman at Metropolitan State University of Denver pursuing a career as a professional pilot and will use her award for flight training. Mr. Powers graduated with a degree in Aviation Management from the Metropolitan State University of Denver and his award will be directed toward training for an instrument rating to advance his career as a corporate pilot. Mr. Dulaney is Director of Business Development at Mayo Aviation and plans to use his award to complete the NBAA Certified Aviation Manager program.

The CABA Scholarships, established and first presented in 2011, are awarded to help support selected students or individuals in their pursuit of a career in aviation. All aviation-related career tracks are eligible including, but not limited to: pilot, aircraft maintenance, airport operations, and management. Applicants are evaluated by CABA's Education and Outreach Committee, and recipients are selected based on their demonstrated dedication to an aviation-related career, scholastic transcripts, financial need, and recommendations from professional and/or faculty mentors.

In 2013, CABA expanded its scholarship program by adding two new annual awards: the CAE Simuflite Type Rating Scholarship, and the NBAA Leadership Conference Scholarship. The Type Rating Scholarship is intended to advance the career of a pilot who already holds a commercial certificate, and the Leadership Conference Scholarship helps to offset expenses for travel and admission to the Conference. These awards are presented at the annual CABA Holiday Party in December.
